NOTE · HOW TO USE THIS DOCUMENT

The closer for Module 5, built on the model of F1.13 and F3.10 and meant to be used differently from every chapter before it. It teaches almost nothing new. Instead it consolidates: one continuous chronology from prehistory to 1947 in two tables, then the pairing sheets that the module's questions actually draw on - sites to finds, texts to authors, monuments to dynasties, inscriptions to rulers, dances to states, painting schools to regions, and the reform movements to their founders. Session 4 is the operating manual: how to run the ten wall sheets as a stack in the final six weeks, what to do in the last week, and the forty-five items that carry the largest share of the marks. The graded practice is deliberately drawn across all eleven chapters rather than from this one, so it functions as a module mock. Study time 3 hours, then repeated short passes.

This is the FOUNDATION layer and a consolidation chapter. Every fact here has been established with its qualifications in F5.1 to F5.10, and this chapter states conclusions rather than repeating the evidence and the contested readings. Where a date is conventional or a figure disputed, that was said in the parent chapter and the shorthand here should not be read as a claim of certainty. Ancient dates are approximate throughout.

0. How to Use This Chapter, Which Is Not Like the Others

Ten chapters taught the module. This one is for revising it, and it is built to be reread many times.

WHY THIS EXISTS · WHAT THIS CHAPTER IS, AND HOW IT DIFFERS

Every chapter so far was designed to be read ONCE and then revised from its wall sheet.

This one is the opposite: it is designed to be reread, and to get faster each time.

It teaches almost nothing new. Its four sessions are:

- 1 A single continuous CHRONOLOGY from prehistory to 1947, in two tables. The value is in its continuity - the module was taught in eleven chapters, and the paper does not respect chapter boundaries. A chronological-order question can span the Harappans and the Guptas
 - 2 The consolidated PAIRING SHEETS - site to find, text to author, monument to dynasty, inscription to ruler, dance to state, school to founder. These are the actual shape of Module 5's questions, and gathering them in one place is what makes a final pass possible
 - 3 The OPERATING MANUAL for the last six weeks - how to run the wall sheets as a stack, what the final week looks like, and the forty-five items that carry the largest share of the marks
 - 4 A module MOCK - the graded practice is drawn from all eleven chapters, not from this one
- One instruction that matters. Do not read this chapter before you have read F5.1 to F5.10. It states conclusions without their evidence and without the contested readings, because those are in the parent chapters. Read as a first exposure it would give you a list to memorise, which is precisely the failure mode F5.1 was written to prevent.

STUDY SESSION · CHAPTER F5.11 - THE FOUR SESSIONS

- 1 Session 1 - Master chronology I: prehistory to Harsha (Section 1)
- 2 Session 2 - Master chronology II: the Delhi Sultanate to 1947 (Section 2)
- 3 Session 3 - The consolidated pairing sheets (Section 3)
- 4 Session 4 - The revision system: the wall-sheet stack, the final week, and the forty-five items (Section 4)

Then 42 graded questions drawn across the whole module.

Ancient India: the master chronology

How to use this table. Read it downward three times, then cover the Event column and reconstruct it from the dates. The four anchors from F5.1 - the Harappan cities, the Buddha, Ashoka, the Guptas - are the pegs, and everything else hangs between them. A chronological-order question is answered by locating each item relative to those four, not by recalling its year.

4. Session 4 - The Revision System ★★★★★

Ten wall sheets, three passes, forty minutes. This is the deliverable the module was built to produce.

MEMORY TECHNIQUE · THE WALL-SHEET STACK - HOW TO RUN IT

F5.1 promised that the module's actual deliverable was a stack of wall sheets you could run in about forty minutes. That stack now exists: F5.1 to F5.10, ten sheets, each the whole chapter compressed to what recognition needs.

The schedule, and it has not changed since F5.1:

- 1 Day 1 after finishing a chapter - run its wall sheet once, by retrieval: cover it, say the pairings aloud, then check
- 2 Day 7 - again, same method. Faster, because retrieval strengthens with each successful attempt
- 3 Day 30 - again. By the third pass a sheet takes three or four minutes
- 4 Then every fortnight until the RT, running the whole stack rather than single sheets

Why retrieval and not rereading, stated once more because it is the single most valuable study instruction in this manual: reading produces a feeling of familiarity that is easily mistaken for knowledge. Retrieval produces the thing itself, and it also tells you what you do not know, which reading never does.

The last six weeks, concretely. You told me the Compact layer is your final-six-weeks text. So the Foundation wall sheets and the Compact volumes work together: run the wall sheet stack twice a week, and read the Compact Module 5 volume alongside. In the final week, the stack alone - forty minutes, twice.

One thing to add to the stack. This chapter's two chronology tables and three pairing sheets should be the ELEVENTH item, run last, because they are the only place where the module is continuous rather than chaptered.

HIGH YIELD · THE FORTY-FIVE ITEMS - IF YOU HAD ONE HOUR LEFT

Not a substitute for the wall sheets. This is the triage list for the last hour before the paper, chosen because each has appeared in the paper's real formats and each is unambiguous.

Ancient (12). Harappan Great Bath = Mohenjo-daro, dockyard = Lothal, ploughed field = Kalibangan · brick ratio 4:2:1 · script undeciphered, no iron · microliths = Mesolithic · Bhimbetka = rock paintings · Rig Veda 10 mandalas, oldest core 2-7 · Sama Veda = music, Yajur = first prose · Vidatha = earliest assembly, women participated · Prinsep deciphered Brahmi 1837.

ACTION · WHERE MODULE 5 LEAVES YOU, AND WHAT REMAINS IN THE PROJECT

Module 5 Foundation is complete: eleven chapters. You now hold the method (F5.1), ancient India political and cultural (F5.1-F5.6), medieval (F5.7-F5.8), modern to 1857 (F5.9), the freedom and labour movements (F5.10), and this consolidation.

The three modules that remain in the Foundation build, per the order settled at the outset:

Modules 6 and 7 (Accounting, Auditing, Statistics and Insurance), which the evidence makes the highest priority of all the remaining work because accounting rose from 4 questions in 2015 to 15 in 2023; Module 8 (English, Quantitative Aptitude and Reasoning), where English vocabulary-in-context is the real gap and quant needs drill rather than teaching; Module 9 (Science and Computers); Module 4 (Economy), deliberately lean; and Modules 10 and 11 (current affairs method, PYQ analysis and the mocks).

And note what this chapter has demonstrated about the whole manual's design. F5.10 ended by tracing one chain from the Factories Act of 1881 to the Section 7A power you will exercise. That chain crossed Module 1 (Concurrent List Entry 24, Articles 39 to 43), Module 2 (the Trade Unions Act and the ID Act), Module 3 (the EPF Act and its three schemes) and Module 5 (the movement that won them). A candidate who can walk that chain in an interview has demonstrated something no single module could show: that he understands the office he is applying for as the product of a history, not as a set of rules to be recited.

6. Answers and Explanations

6.1 Level 1 - answers

Q	Ans	Why - and the chapter to reread if you missed it
1	a	Mohenjo-daro. Harappa's signature is its granaries ; Dholavira's water feature is reservoirs . F5.1
2	a	Mesolithic - the single distinctive-feature pairing for the period. F5.1
3	b	Ten , with about 1,028 hymns and the oldest core in mandalas 2-7 . F5.2
4	c	Vidatha - earliest, and the one in which women participated. It disappears in the later Vedic period. F5.2

Q	Ans	Why - and the chapter to reread if you missed it
5	d	Sarnath - the Dharmachakra Pravartana. Lumbini birth, Bodh Gaya enlightenment, Kushinagar death. F5.3
6	a	Twenty-fourth and last - so he is a reformer, not the founder , on the tradition's own account. F5.3
7	c	Major Rock Edict XIII; XII is the edict of religious tolerance. F5.4
8	d	Samudragupta , composed by Harisena and engraved on an Ashokan pillar . F5.4
9	d	34 - and 12/17/5 by faith, the Hindu group being the largest. F5.5
10	a	Uttar Pradesh , and it is the only northern classical form . F5.6
11	b	Tyagaraja , with Muthuswami Dikshitar and Syama Sastri. Purandara Dasa is the "father" but NOT of the Trinity . F5.6
12	c	Alauddin Khalji , 1311 - the first true arch and dome on scientific principles . F5.8
13	d	Shah Jahan , for Mumtaz Mahal. F5.8
14	a	Cornwallis , 1793, with the demand fixed in perpetuity . F5.9
15	c	1930 , 12 March to 6 April. F5.10
16	b	1920 , with Lala Lajpat Rai as first president. F5.10

6.2 Level 2 - answers

Q	Ans	Why - and the chapter to reread if you missed it
17	b	4:2:1 , held across the whole civilisation - the standardisation that makes the Harappans a state. F5.1
18	c	Iron - "dark metal", and one of the three markers separating later from early Vedic. F5.2
19	d	No permanent self. (a) describes JAINISM's jiva - the opposite - and this is the sharpest doctrinal break between the two. F5.3
20	a	A civic and moral code for a plural empire . The edicts contain none of the Four Noble Truths, the Eightfold Path, nirvana or anatta. F5.4
21	b	Grey schist , with Greco-Roman influence. Mathura is spotted red sandstone , Amaravati white limestone, Hoysala soapstone. F5.4, F5.5
22	c	Dravida - the gopuram identifies the style instantly, and Nagara temples characteristically have neither enclosure wall nor gateway tower. F5.5
23	d	Every piece is necessarily unique , because the process destroys both its pattern and its mould. F5.5
24	a	Assam , performed in sattras , and recognised as classical only in 2000 . F5.6
25	b	Beams and corbels . Arcuate building - the true arch and dome - arrives with Indo-Islamic architecture, and an arch works in compression where a lintel fails in tension . F5.8
26	c	Dalhousie. (a) Wellesley is the Subsidiary Alliance - the commonest confusion in the modern period. F5.9
27	d	Naoroji , in Poverty and Un-British Rule in India ; R. C. Dutt also wrote on it. F5.9
28	b	1909, Morley-Minto - the constitutional origin of communal representation. 1919 gave dyarchy ; 1935 provincial autonomy. F5.10
29	a	The Wadia litigation showed that organising a strike exposed a union to liability in tort, so the Act granted registration and immunity . F5.10

Q	Ans	Why - and the chapter to reread if you missed it
30	b	Its demands - a living wage, limited hours, protection for women and children, the right to organise - became Articles 39, 41, 42 and 43. So the DPSP were drafted before independence. F5.10

6.3 Level 3 - answers

Q	Ans	Why - and the chapter to reread if you missed it
31	c	2-4-1-3: Mature Harappan 2600-1900 BCE, the Buddha 563-483 BCE, Ashoka 268-232 BCE, the Guptas from 320 CE. These are the four anchors of F5.1 - every ancient ordering question is solved by placing items against them
32	d	A-3 Delhi-Bakht Khan · B-1 Kanpur-Nana Saheb · C-4 Lucknow-Begum Hazrat Mahal · D-2 Jhansi-Rani Lakshmibai. Bakht Khan for Delhi, because Bahadur Shah was a figurehead. F5.9
33	a	(a) is false. The TRIMURTI is at ELEPHANTA, not Ellora - the similarity of the names is exactly what the option exploits. (d), (b) and (c) are correct. F5.5
34	b	A-3 Cornwallis · B-1 Munro · C-4 Holt Mackenzie · D-2 Wellesley. F5.9
35	c	All three are correct, and they are three links of the chain from 1881 to Section 7A. This is the question to be able to answer in an interview. F5.10
36	d	A-3 Kuchipudi-Andhra Pradesh · B-1 Sattriya-Assam · C-4 Mohiniyattam-Kerala · D-2 Odissi-Odisha. F5.6
37	a	(a) was NOT part of it, and this is the module's most important single distinction: Ashoka was personally Buddhist, but the dhamma of the edicts is a civic code containing no distinctively Buddhist doctrine. F5.4
38	b	2-4-3-1: Plassey 1757, Permanent Settlement 1793, Revolt 1857, Congress 1885. F5.9, F5.10
39	c	A-3 Shankara-Advaita · B-1 Ramanuja-Vishishtadvaita · C-4 Madhva-Dvaita · D-2 Vallabhacharya-Shuddhadvaita. Shankara: the soul IS God; Ramanuja: PART of God; Madhva: NOT God. F5.8
40	d	(d) is false, and it inverts one of the least-known drivers of Indian labour law. Lancashire manufacturers WANTED Indian mills regulated, precisely because regulation would raise Indian costs and reduce their competitive advantage - which is why a colonial state pursuing de-industrialisation legislated on factory conditions at all. (a), (b) and (c) are correct. F5.10
41	a	A-3 Thanjavur-Chola · B-1 Ellora Kailasa-Rashtrakuta · C-4 Kandariya Mahadeva-Chandela · D-2 Shore Temple-Pallava. F5.5
42	b	1 and 2 only. Statement 3 is the answer that fails an interview: Partition followed from the institutionalisation of communal representation, the League's post-1937 calculation, Congress misjudgements, a British decision to leave quickly, and the violence of 1946 - and the catastrophe was worsened by the compressed timetable. F5.10

7. One-Minute Revision

ONE-MINUTE REVISION · CHAPTER F5.11 - HOW TO USE THE MODULE, AND ITS FOUR SPINES

WHAT THIS CHAPTER IS a consolidation, meant to be reread until it is fast, not read once · do not read it before F5.1-F5.10, because it states conclusions without their evidence or their contested readings · add its two chronology tables and three pairing sheets as the ELEVENTH item in the wall-sheet stack, run last, because it is the only place the module is continuous rather than chaptered

THE FOUR ANCIENT ANCHORS Mature Harappan 2600-1900 BCE · the Buddha 563-483 BCE · Ashoka 268-232 BCE · the Guptas from 320 CE · every ancient chronological-order question is solved by placing items against these four rather than by recalling years
THE SEVEN MEDIEVAL AND MODERN ANCHORS 1206 Sultanate begins · 1526 Mughals begin · 1707 Aurangzeb dies · 1757 Plassey · 1857 the Revolt · 1885 Congress founded · 1947 independence · medieval and modern is where dates genuinely are asked, so these seven must be automatic

THE FOUR PAIRING SHEETS ARE THE MODULE'S REAL SHAPE sites to finds (Great Bath-Mohenjo-daro, dockyard-Lothal, ploughed field-Kalibangan) · inscriptions to rulers (Allahabad-Samudragupta, Junagadh-Rudradaman I, Hathigumpha-Kharavela, Aihole-Pulakeshin II, Nasik-Gautamiputra) · texts to authors (Arthashastra-Kautilya, Tirukkural-Thiruvalluvar, Aryabhatiya-Aryabhata, Ain-i-Akbari-Abul Fazl, Baburnama-Babur in Turkish) · monuments to dynasties (Thanjavur-Chola, Ellora Kailasa-Rashtrakuta, Khajuraho-Chandela, Konark-Eastern Ganga, Belur-Hoysala, Hampi-Vijayanagara, Taj-Shah Jahan)

THE REVISION SYSTEM - the module's actual deliverable ten wall sheets, F5.1 to F5.10, plus this chapter as the eleventh · day 1, day 7, day 30, then fortnightly · always by RETRIEVAL - cover the sheet, say the pairings aloud, then check · reading produces a feeling of familiarity easily mistaken for knowledge; retrieval produces the thing itself and also tells you what you do not know · in the last six weeks: the stack twice a week alongside the Compact Module 5 volume · in the final week: the stack alone, forty minutes, twice

THE FIVE DISTINCTIONS THE MODULE MOST DEPENDS ON RECOGNITION not RECALL - the F5.1 principle that governs everything, so one exposure to a wide field beats five to a narrow one, which is the reverse of the correct Polity habit · ASHOKA'S DHAMMA IS NOT BUDDHISM - a civic and moral code for a plural empire, containing none of the Four Noble Truths, the Eightfold Path, nirvana or anatta · ANATTA vs JIVA - Buddhism denies a permanent self, Jainism affirms an eternal soul present even in plants, and Jainism is the harder religion on every axis · TRABEATE vs ARCUATE - temples span with beams and corbels, Indo-Islamic building with the true arch and dome, because a lintel fails in tension while an arch works in compression · AJANTA is Buddhist only and famous for paintings; ELLORA is three faiths and the Kailasa temple - the most frequently asked distinction in the art chapter

THE ONE-HOUR TRIAGE LIST - forty-five items twelve ancient, eight religion, eight rulers, seven art, ten modern, as set out in Session 4 · not a substitute for the wall sheets, but the right thing to read in the last hour

WHAT THE MODULE DEMONSTRATED ABOUT THE WHOLE MANUAL F5.10 traced one chain from the Factories Act 1881 to the Section 7A power you will exercise, and that chain crossed Module 1 (Entry 24, Articles 39-43), Module 2 (Trade Unions Act, ID Act), Module 3 (EPF Act and the three schemes) and Module 5 (the movement that won them) · a candidate who can walk that chain has shown that he understands the office as the product of a history rather than a set of rules - which is something no single module could demonstrate
